Capital Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

A Summer Day.

Aurora, goddess of the dawn,
The subtle veil of night hath drawn,
And Phœbus with his chariing steeds
Across the vault of heaven speeds.
The merry birds once more awake,
Their morning bath in dew drops take,
Then from the dripping grass they spring
To plume their wings and softly sing.
The squirrel leaps from tree to tree,
Among the leaves his form you see,
Or from the forest, dense and dark,
Comes echoes of his playful bark.

All nature seems to smile and sing,
"Till man forgets his every thing,
And only feels, with swelling breast,
That 'on earth his life is blessed."
But restless time moves ever on,
And with his fades the rosy morn,
The sun drinks up the sparkling dew
From every rose and violet blue.
The busy bee now wings his flight
To sunny fields and meadows bright
Where, through the long and sultry hours,
He sips the nectar from the flowers.

The scorching sun now high o'er head,
His brightest rays to earth hath sped,
But seems to linger for a space
As if to seek a resting place.

The cattle leave the pastures green
To hide behind some friendly screen,
Where, as the hours slowly die,
They stand and fight the hungry fly.

The tired bird has ceased to sing,
The bee flies home on weary wing;
The squirrels to the shadows creep,
And nature seems to fall asleep.

The shadows 'neath the trees grow tall;
The sun becomes a fiery ball,
And from the west his parting glance
Awakes the world as from a trance.

The milch cows leave the flowery dells
And slowly come with tinkling bells,
To where the calves impatient wait
Beside the old time "milking gate."

The plowman leads his weary team
Beside a cool refreshing stream,
And as the horses slowly drink
He sings beside the grassy brink.

Purple glows the western skies;
The fading daylight slowly dies,
And o'er the world, that gently yields,
The power of slumber softly steals.

FOR A NEW CAPITOL.

Bills Introduced on Wednesday to Make the Appropriation.

On Wednesday two bills were introduced in the Senate to provide for the erection of a new State Capitol building in this city. One was presented by Senator Thos. H. Hays, of Louisville, and the other by our own Senator, Hon. W. W. Stephenson. That introduced by Senator Hays provides for the construction of another wing (west wing) to the Capitol. It provides that $— be appropriated out of any money on hand or that may come into the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. Commissioners are to be appointed to contract for and conduct the improvement. The commissioners are authorized to consider and include in any contract they may make the labor of convicts, requiring the contractor to pay a reasonable hire for them to be deducted out of the amount to be paid to the contractor.

Senator Stephenson's bill makes provision for the completion and erection of Capitol buildings. It provides for the incorporation as a body politic, to be known as the Board of State House Commissioners, of R. P. Jacobs, of Boyle county; George V. Payne, of Scott county; Ephraim Sayre, of Fayette county; George W.

Morris, of Jefferson county; W. L. Dulaney, of Warren county; Gen. D. W. Lindsey and Dr. E. E. Hume, of Franklin county. They are to meet the first Tuesday in July to organize, and are authorized to employ a secretary at $1,200 a year; also to employ assistants and architects.

It shall be the duty of this board to put in repair and complete the State House and public offices on the Capitol Square, at a cost not exceeding $1,000,000. The bill goes into details about letting of contracts and the nature of the improvements. To enable the board to carry out the object and purposes of the act there "is appropriated out of any money in Treasury not otherwise appropriated during the fiscal year 1894-5 the sum of $100,000 and $200,000 each for the four succeeding fiscal years, and $100,000 the fifth year." The members are to receive no compensation, but will be allowed mileage at the rate allowed members of the General Assembly.

LOUISVILLE COMMERCIAL CLUB

Is for a Capital Appropriation Strong.

Last June, just after the fight for the capital location in the Legislature, the ROUNDABOUT said some harsh things about certain members of the Louisville Commercial Club, and now we want to take it all back and swear we never said them.

At the regular monthly meeting of that body on Tuesday evening Mr. M. B. Bowden, president of the club, presented the resolutions given below and left the chair to make a speech in support of the same.

The resolutions are as follows:

WHEREAS, It was by the last Legislature settled that the State Capital shall remain at Frankfort;

AND WHEREAS, The necessities of public business and the dignity of the State alike require more modern, commodious and impressive capital buildings than the antiquated, inconvenient, unfinished and unsightly structures now at Frankfort; and

WHEREAS, Buildings adequate to the needs and commensurate with the dignity of the Commonwealth can be erected without an increase of the present low tax rate; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Commercial Club of Louisville that the present Legislature be requested to provide, out of the State revenue for the necessary number of years a fund for the erection at Frankfort of capital buildings, and for a suitable commission to take charge of the erection of the same; and it be further

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the meeting; that a copy thereof be given for publication to the press of Louisville and Frankfort, and that a committee of three be appointed by the officer presiding over this meeting to present in person to the Legislature a copy of these resolutions and by all honorable ways to aid in securing the ends herein set out.

The resolutions were heartily seconded in a warm speech by Mr. Angus Allmond, and were adopted. The chair appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. Bowden, Allmond and W. W. Thum, the same three who fought so hard for the capital removal, to bring the resolutions to this city and present them to the Legislature.

A New State-House.

The Evening Post publishes today the figures relative to receipts and expenditures taken from the books of the Auditor. These show that the Governor's estimate of a surplus is an error and his recommendation of a reduction of taxes not practicable.

But it is possible with existing revenues to do two needed things, trusting to an increase in receipts as the tax machinery works with more ease.

The first is a better provision for the care of the insane. This State has undertaken to provide for these unfortunate people, and it must do it wisely, fully, faithfully.

Next—the people of the State demand a new State House. The capital is fixed at Frankfort. The agitation for a removal has done great injury to that city, and having thus suffered and now suffering from the location of the penitentiary, it is only just that the State build there a capital worthy of our people.

This does not mean the beginning of years of extravagance. Complete plans should be selected and full estimates be made and the whole cost counted. The work should be finished in five years, and a handsome home fitted for the needs of the State, and a specimen of modern architecture as exhibited at Chicago can be built without any increase in taxation.

The Evening Post puts this suggestion before this Legislature, because it believes that at last we have a representative body of men careful of the interests of the State and proud of its history.—Louisville Post.

Bob Coming Back Home.

Mr. Frank W. Keyes, who has been with the LeCompte & Gayle Co., South Side druggists, for the past five years, leaves the first of the week for his future home in Ashland, and Messrs. LeCompte & Gayle Co. have secured as his successor Mr. Robert W. Tilford, an old time Frankfort boy, whose smiling countenance will be seen behind their counter and prescription case on Monday.

Bob's old friends here will be glad to welcome him back and hope he has come home to stay, as he is one of the most popular young men who ever left this city to seek his fortune.

Killed Instantly.

A convict by the name of Wm. Holcomb was standing under some shafting in the chair factory Tuesday when a hanger gave way letting the shafting fall. It struck Holcomb squarely on top of the head, crushing his skull and killing him instantly. Holcomb was a twenty-one year man, sent from Letcher county for murder and had served nine years.

Wm. H. Wheeler.

A prominent contractor and builder, of Adams, N. Y., was a great smoker for years. He liked his cigar but did not like the serious throat trouble that began to come upon him in the shape of a bunch or growth. As he expressed it he was afraid he was going to have a Grant throat. At the stage he began using Dr. Hale's Household Ointment, applying it directly to the bunch inside his throat several times each day. A few weeks of this treatment entirely cured the bad throat and Mr. Wheeler states that it worked a most wonderful cure in his case and that he regards Dr. Hale's Household Ointment as the greatest medicine of the 19th century. It cures all inflammation, 25c. and 50c. boxes at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

Under the present law a clerk has a great deal of work to do in criminal cases for which he receives nothing.

Founded Upon Facts.

Few of the thousands who have witnessed the American melodrama "The Power of the Press" have realized that the play is but a reproduction of actual events which happened in New York City a few years ago, and that its characters and scenes are the results of the life studies of the author, Manager Augustus Pitou. Mr. Pitou in reading a leading New York daily paper a few years ago was struck by the recital made therein of certain evidence presented before the Governor of the State going to show the innocence of a prisoner recently released from Sing Sing, after having served an unjust sentence of seven years in that institution.

Curiosity led him to follow up the story and the persons it concerned, and bit by bit he built up the real story of the lives of the characters which he has brought into the play he has called "The Power of the Press" in honor of the service done in the cause of humanity and justice by the daily paper referred to.

All traces of identity of the various characters have, of course, been destroyed in Mr. Pitou's dramatic work but the various men and women who were interested or implicated in the case referred to were sketched with such fidelity that many who saw the play during its long New York run were able to identify them.

The lifelike character of the scenes is thus easily explained, and the stage settings are equally true to life, as they have been made and built from photographic reproductions of the localities visited by Mr. Pitou in his researches for the material used in the play.

The services of Mr. George Jessop were made use of by Mr. Pitou only after the play was carefully outlined, and it is a singular fact that, after the two authors completed their work, the name of "The Power of the Press" was written out by both, as the individual choice of each gentleman, under previous consultation or discussion.

Heart Disease Curable.

A. F. Davis, Silver Creek, Nebraska, by using four bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, was completely cured after twelve years suffering from heart disease. This wonderful remedy is sold by J. W. Announcement.

No apology is necessary on the score of medical propriety for thus announcing to the profession and the public, that we have made a long, careful and special study of cancerous diseases, together with all malignant and other tumors, and are able to offer the results of our extensive experience in Kentucky and surrounding countries in a system of rational and successful treatment, that we believe has never heretofore been attained, and we are able to point to thousands of successful cases—not in a boasting, but rather in a spirit of thankfulness, that we are thus able to prove so clearly our assertion; that our system does cure cancer. With a positive knowledge of this fact now so fully endorsed by thousands of sufferers, and approved by the profession, we should be wanting in humanity if we neglected any means in our power to spread the glad tidings among those afflicted with this most terrible and hopeless of diseases.

We have printed a pamphlet giving the symptoms, cause, varieties, &c., of cancers and tumors. Anyone feeling interesting can get a copy free by addressing,

The Bridge.

The Construction Company have put up the third panel of the iron this week and are at work on the fourth one. They were delayed more than a day in their work because one of the connections of the top chord was put together wrong and quite a number of rivets had to be cut and a piece taken off before the heavy irons would fit together right. If the good weather continues and there is no more trouble in connecting the members, Mr. Seckner expects to have the bridge hung by the last of next week or the first of the week after.

Flooded.

A joint of the water pipe at the south end of the St. Clair street bridge blew out Wednesday night and the south abutment of the bridge was flooded, but no serious damage was done. The dirt which has been dumped into the space between the wing walls and abutment was so well settled by the water, however, that it will need no ramming to make it solid.

The persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the grip can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. W. A. McGuire, of McKay, Ohio, says: "A gripe left me with a severe cough. After using several different medicines without relief. I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a permanent cure. I have also found it to be without an equal for children, when troubled with colds or croup. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle, druggist."

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

FURNISHED BY GLOVER & DURETT, LOUISVILLE TOBACCO WAREHOUSE.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 2,581 hhds., with receipts for the same period of 1,398 hhds. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 2,581 hhds. Sales of the crop of 1893 on our market to this date amount to 11,612 hhds.

The sales on our market this week were light on account of the recent unfavorable weather for handling the new crop. The medium, good and fine grades of new burley sold higher on our market this week than before the holidays, while the common grades were maintained at about the same figures.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco 1893 crop:

Trash (dark) or damaged tobacco	$2 50c	$3 50
Common Colory trash	3 50c	4 00
Medium to good colory trash	4 00c	5 00
Common lugs not colory	4 00c	5 00
Common Colory lugs	5 50c	7 00

J. W. Fairbanks,

Postmaster at Mankato, Neb., writes us as follows: I have taken but one package of your Dr. Hale's Household Tea and it is the first medicine I have found that has done me any good. For 30 years I have been troubled with liver and kidney troubles, growing worse all the time. For the last 10 years I have not been able to do much or any work. I feel dull, sleepy and as though I could not stir. My bowels would not move oftener than once a week. After taking one package I am much better and now can take hold and work. Have a good appetite and bowels regular. For dyspepsia, constipation, all liver and kidney troubles, etc., it has no equal. Only 25c. and 50c. a package at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store. a

Take the L. & N.

If you are going anywhere and want to go in style, speed and comfort. The L. & N. the shortest and best line to Nashville, Decatur, Chattanooga, Atlanta, Birmingham, Montgomery, New Orleans, San Antonio, Pensacola, Jacksonville and all cities in the south, southeast and southwest, is also the ideal route to St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Ogden, San Diego, San Francisco and all the cities in the west, northwest and southwest, also the best line between Frankfort and Chicago and all intermediate points, either via Louisville or Cincinnati. Between Frankfort and New York, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Old Point Comfort, Norfolk, Va. It is noted for its fast time and solid comfort. In fact to any point in the bounds of the United States, there is no road to-day that can offer accommodations to equal the Louisville and Nashville.

If you are contemplating a trip don't fail to give us a call, we will be able to direct you over the best line. Call on or address, C. E. MILLER, Ticket Agent. H. B. LOGSDON, Agent.

Notice.

The Kentucky Midland Railroad claim in their notice printed in all papers Wednesday, that they would pay all toll over the L. & N. bridge while the St. Clair street bridge is obstructed, going to or from K. M. depot. This would lead people to believe that the L. & N. Company had charged toll to shippers before said St. Clair street bridge was obstructed.

I beg to say that the L. & N. Company has never charged toll to or from the L. & N. depot for years, over the L. & N. bridge.

We earnestly solicit your business and promise fair treatment and best attention, and the toll shall be free to shippers until further notice.

H. B. LOGSDON, Agent.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky, as second-class matter, March 1, 1894.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Editor and Pub.

FRANKFORT, JANUARY 13, 1894.

TWO ICE FACTORIES

Will be Established Here in a Short Time.

The Electric Railway Company have about concluded negotiations for the Ice Factory to be run in connection with their power-house, of which we made mention a short time since, and expect to have a plant in operation in a short time which will turn out twenty-five tons of ice per day.

It is also said parties out of town—supposed to be the Lexington Ice Company—have secured ground from the L. & N. Railroad Company on High street and will at once put up a building in which an ice factory with a capacity of twenty thousand pounds per day will be operated.

As competition is the life of trade and produces low prices also we may expect to get pure crystal ice next summer at a very low figure. Our home people mean business, whether the other fellows do or not, and will push their work to an early completion.

Forget Not the Frog.

Now that the old bridge is being torn away to give place to the new and the piers thereof will soon be demolished and the historic drift pile endangered, a former citizen of this place but now a resident of a distant State, enters his protest against an old dweller among the drift, whose familiar voice has been so often heard by late travelers across the bridge on warm summer nights, being disturbed. In acknowledging the receipt of a cane and cup made from the old bridge timbers he writes:

"I shall feel like an old land mark is gone sure enough when I visit Frankfort and the familiar old bridge is not to be seen. I trust you will not interfere with the drift pile; it would kill the old frog that used to alarm the boys late at night."

It's a Mistake

To neglect caring for a cough or cold. Every time you cough you increase the trouble and soon an inflammation is started that in a short time is difficult to control. Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure has such a magic effect upon a cough, allaying all irritation so quickly, that every person in the land should always have a bottle of this wonderful medicine on hand to begin taking at once upon the first appearance of a cold. It costs only 25c and 50c a bottle at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

Under the Civil Service Law.

Miss Katie Halloran and Mr. Albert Kirtley were appointed to positions in the Post Office on Tuesday under the civil service law—the former as clerk and the latter as a substitute mail carrier.

An Owens Club.

The congressional campaign is opening up in this county and an Owens Club is being organized. The list already contains quite a number of names.

Rhea Coming.

Rhea's next appearance in Frankfort will be at the Opera House January 16th in the play with which she has become most closely identified in the popular mind—Josephine, Empress of the French.

The play derives its chief attraction from the development of Josephine's character and the exhibition of the admirable traits which belong no less to the tender and affectionate wife and loyal subject than to the majestic grandeur of imperial womanhood.

Napoleon in the play is a clear cut, incisive and interesting character whose conduct is moulded by his belief in fate, in fact the Man of Destiny as described by most biographers.

Josephine is the dominant figure of the play and is in every way a loving and lovable woman, a sympathetic mother, a loyal wife filled with a patriotic zeal which partakes of the nature of religious devotion, and which leads her to make the greatest of personal sacrifices for the good of France.

When War is Declared

Against a man's happiness by his stomach, the enemy may be pacified and brought speedily and easily to terms. That potent regulator of digestion, the stomach, is the seat of the rebellious organ thoroughly. Indigestion arises from weakness of the stomach, and the food in it, for want of the power to digest, decomposes and settles, giving rise to heartburn, flatulence and pain, besides a multitude of symptoms both changeable and perplexing. But peace soon reigns when the great stomachic is resorted to and used with persistence. Dyspepsia gives rise to morbid discomposure of mind, and even sleeplessness and by no means in chronic cases. To the complete dismissal of the Bitters is fully adequate. Liver complaint, constipation, debility, rheumatism and malaria are completely subdued by this genial medicine.

Sires at Fleetwood Farm.

At the Fleetwood Farm, near Frankfort, Ky., three stallions are advertised to make public seasons, and taking everything into consideration, their fees are very reasonable. At the head of the stud is Blue Eyes, one of the most successful sires that ever stood in this country. Look at this great record: thirty eight winners out of forty-five starters. And among the winners there are several stake winners of phenomenal speed. Blue Eyes is unquestionably one of Enquirer's greatest sons, and Enquirer is one of the most prepotent sons of the great Leamington. Blue Eyes was a superior race horse, captured the Merchant's Stakes, Golden City Cup, &c. Although his career in the stud has been very successful, we expect some of our greatest race horses to yet come from the loins of Enquirer and Buchu's splendid son.

The second sire on the list is Portland, by Virgil, out of Finework, by Lexington. As a race horse, in his two-year-old career, Portland was a brilliant performer, capturing the Juvenile, Surf, Great Post, Tyro, Test Stakes, &c., and defeating such really good two year olds as Ban Fox, Dew Drop, The Bard, Cyclops, Precocia, &c. Such performances are his credentials, and they entitle him to be classed among the greatest that have appeared in this country. He has been in the stud but a short time, but he has clearly demonstrated that few sires are his superior. Three starters represented Portland in 1893, and two of them were winners, while the others finished second several times.

Imported Aintree, one of the best horses that ever crossed the ocean, is the third sire. Imp.

Right in your own hands, if you'll take it, you have the remedy for woman's weaknesses and woman's ailments. And you have it on remarkable terms. Dr. Price's Favorite Prescription is guaranteed to help you, or it costs you nothing. If it weren't the most certain and effective remedy in the world, do you think it could be sold in any such way? Every overworked and "run-down" woman and every delicate and suffering woman needs it. It builds up and invigorates the whole system, regulates the bowels, restores proper functions, and restores health and strength. It's a legitimate medicine, not a beverage purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and made especially for woman's needs. In every disorder and derangement peculiar to the sex, periodical pains, weak back, bearing-down sensations, and kindred ailments, "Favorite Prescription" is guaranteed to benefit or cure, or you have your money back.

Aintree is by Selton, a Derby winner, out of Electric, by Thunderbolt, &c. A splendidly bred horse he is. On the turf he was very successful, landing the Scurry Stakes and Walton Handicap at Newmarket, the Prince of Wales Handicap and the Nursery at Liverpool, the Leicester Plate, &c. Electric, the dam of Imp. Aintree was a fine mare, having to her credit several stakes. Sired by a Derby winner, and out of a stake winner, and a stake winner himself, Imp. Aintree should beget many high class horses. Visitors are invited to inspect the stallions.—Live Stock Record.

Rock Haven.

About a year ago I took a violent attack of a gripe. I coughed day and night for about six weeks, my wife suggested I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. At first I could see no difference, but still kept taking it, and soon found that it was what I needed. If I got no relief from one dose I took another, and it was only a few days until I was free from the cough. I think people in general ought to know the value of this remedy, and I take pleasure in acknowledging the benefit I have received from it. Friday Night's Fire.

About 1 o'clock Friday night of last week, the training stable of Messrs. Church Bros., on Holmes street, was destroyed by fire, together with the residence of Mr. Lunce Graves adjoining. There was no stock in the stable at the time, but it contained some vehicles, sleighs and a little provender, all of which were destroyed. The family of Mr. Graves were from home and everything in the house was consumed. The loss was about six thousand dollars. Messrs. Church Bros. were partially insured, but Mr. Graves had no insurance and his loss was total.

FRANKFORT, JANUARY 13, 1894.

Souvenir Pokers.

Just now souvenirs of the old St. Clair street bridge are all the rage and canes, cups and inkstands are being turned from timber taken from it, but about the most useful things we have seen are souvenir pokers made from the iron which held the old bridge together. With one of them a person can stir up his fire these long winter evenings and while sitting by the bright blaze thus made imagine he sees in the burning embers images of the old structure which for so many years furnished a safe and dry passage over the Kentucky while the raging waters roared and foamed beneath. You want one of these and Mr. James Scofield, at the blacksmith shop of Mr. J. W. Rankin, on Second street, will turn them out for you in any style you may desire at a reasonable rate. An order left with either Mr. Price Williams or Mr. Frank Hutchison, of the South Side Fire Department, will receive prompt attention.

Got Under the Dump.

Tuesday afternoon Lee Jenkins, a convict sent up for life from Lexington, was at work in the new cell-house which is being erected at the penitentiary, when a wheelbarrow loaded with brick, which was being wheeled by another convict up an incline to a scaffold above, was upset by a plank turning under it and the bricks fell upon Jenkins, as he was in a stooping position, injuring his back so badly that he will be disabled for a long time.

TO CALIFORNIA

The Land of Sunshine, Fruit, And Flowers.

The Midwinter Exposition, already much talked-of, bids fair to rival the great fair that has just closed at Chicago—not in size, perhaps, but certainly so in originality, in richness and in delighted visitors, who will unanimously agree that the Pacific Coast is worth many times the time and money spent to visit it, in its return of delightful climate, mellow sunlight, wondrous growth of vegetation, and the heretofore unheard of net-work of industries connected with fruit raising, and the shipping of the product.

In order to give an opportunity for everybody to visit this wonderful land during the Exposition, California rates via the Queen & Crescent Route have been reduced, and every one may find the cost of such a trip within his means.

As for equipment, it is the only line by which you can travel from Cincinnati to San Francisco, absolutely without change. Tourist sleeping cars run every two weeks through from Cincinnati to San Francisco. Solid vestibuled trains twice a day from Cincinnati to New Orleans, where connection is made with through trains and Pullman sleepers daily to California points. General Comment.

The Hawaiian question has assumed renewed prominence this week from the news which reached the daily papers Tuesday that Minister Willis had demanded the restoration of Queen Lilioukalani, and that the Provisional Government of the islands had refused to accede to the demand, even when Mr. Willis threatened to use the Naval Force of his country to enforce it. At the time the press advices left Honolulu no further trouble had arisen, and the general opinion there was that the threats of using force were merely a bluff, and that having been "called" the Minister would await further instructions from home before making a new move. These advices have not as yet been officially confirmed. Mr. Willis' dispatches not having reached the State Department.

It would be interesting to learn the real condition of affairs in Hawaii since the landing of the Marines from the U. S. ships, and the exact status of the causes which led to that action. The reports and utterances of the two men who had the most to do with present uncertainty in the public mind, Messrs. Stevens and Blount, are so opposed to each other, both in general tenor and in details, that unless the reader has such violent prejudices that he accepts all one has to say and rejects all the other claims, it is impossible to form an opinion. If we consider, however, the condition of civilization in the islands at the beginning of the century, and the utter impossibility of the natives' having so far advanced in education and culture in the interval to be capable of intelligent self-government, the force of much that Mr. Blount alleges is greatly weakened, granting that it is all true. Not even Mr. Blount denies that the majority of the white residents of the islands are against Queen Lilioukalani, and it is hardly probable that the natives are much concerned, so long as their physical welfare is not interfered with. The revolution having been peacefully and successfully accomplished, no matter by what means, at this distance it would seem the wisest plan to either annex the islands or else maintain their integrity as an independent State, and not try to overthrow what has already been done, as the President seems to have determined.

A dispatch to the United Press from Lansing, Mich., dated the 10th inst., gives the intelligence that a general attempt is to be made to revive what used to be known as "Know-Nothingism." The name of the order is The Ancient Order of Loyal Americans, and its general idea is to oppose everything foreign as contrasted with everything American. Those joining, who must be native born Americans, are required to take a "hide bound oath" not to reveal the secrets of the order. It would be interesting to know how this strikes the Hon. Ike Quigley, who is so opposed to the American Protestant Association that he has introduced a bill into the Legislature to suppress it.

However worthy the aims of a secret society may be, the formation of such as propose to influence the political action or opinions of their members is to be discouraged by all right thinking people. The principal complaint that the A. P. A. make against the Catholics is the influence of the priests in secular affairs; but such societies as the A. P. A. are only a means of fighting the devil with fire, no disrespect to the priests being intended by the simile. There are times when fire is an indispensable element for successfully coping with his satanic majesty, but to an unprejudiced mind there is no necessity for regarding Catholicism as the arch enemy in disguise. The influence of Rome in politics, one way or the other, is not so great in this country as to call for extreme measures, although the existence of any such influence on the part of the Catholic or any other church, as a church, is to be deprecated.

The North American Review for January contains an interesting article on the Wilson Tariff Bill by the Hon. Wm. L. Wilson, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, for whom the measure was named. However one may differ with Mr. Wilson in his theories, it must be acknowledged that his arguments are not to be despised. From the standpoint of the present administration, it is the best explanation of the present condition of financial affairs which we have seen, although its partisanship is clearly apparent in attacks upon the policy pursued by Mr. McKinley while he was the Chairman of the Committee.

The "Prince of India." Gen. Lew Wallace's latest novel, has more food for thought and research into historical matters in it than any other book which I remember to have seen for many years. For instance, in describing the model of Solomon's Temple which the Prince is said to have found in the tomb of Hiram, King of Tyre, he says that it would have delighted the soul of Cellini. How many readers of the book knew who Cellini was? The history of this remarkable man in itself would make a most exciting novel, and it will repay any casual reader to lay aside even such an interesting book as the "Prince" to find out what the cyclopedias say of him. Nor is this the only instance where the General's communitarian knowledge of history becomes apparent. There is scarcely a chapter in the book that does not mention some name or fact, proper comprehension of which will require the use of books of reference by the reader. There were many such I passed in my reading without even noting, but it took me three weeks to finish the book, and the interest did not flag in the least; it was the rather heightened by as thorough an acquaintance as I was able to obtain with facts and persons but casually mentioned in the text. I do not think the style of language in the Prince of India is so lofty as in Gen. Wallace's other great book, Ben-Hur, but as an historical novel my humble opinion is that it will live as long as the English language exists.

The Courts.

The Circuit Court has been occupied this week with the trial of civil cases, some of them of little importance. In the suit of Kinney v. L. & N. Railroad the jury, upon peremptory instructions of the Judge, found for the defendant. In the habeas corpus case of Thompson v. Hockensmith, for the possession of a child, the court ordered that the child remain in the custody of its grandparents, Hockensmith and wife, until it was older.

Thursday afternoon the contested election cases of the candidates for Mayor and City Council were reached and were taken up at the night session. Argument on the motion to dissolve the Republican injunction on the whole case in the Council contest was first heard and then the Mayor's case was taken up. The balance of the time until the adjourning hour was occupied in reading the papers and depositions in the case and then the matter was continued and probably may come up again to-day.

The United States Court has also been trying civil cases this week. In the suit of the Columbian Finance and Trust Co. v. The Mingo Mountain Coal and Coke Co. O. M. Woodberry, of Middlesborough, was appointed receiver. In the damage suit of White, adm'r of Green Kennedy, v. E. T., V. & G. Railroad Co. the jury brought in a verdict of $4,500 for plaintiff. Bennett & Witte, of Cincinnati, sued A. H. Rennebaum, of Middlesborough, for $4,000 worth of lumber, and the jury gave them the lumber and $100 damages. The jury in the case of Mulcahy v. The Mayor, Chief of Police and City of Lexington for $10,000 damages hung. It is understood that eight of the jurors were for a nominal sum but four were opposed to giving judgment for one cent.

The case of Mrs. Farra v. C., N. O. & T. P. Railroad Co. was taken up yesterday. It will be remembered that a vehicle containing Mrs. Farra and her children was run into at a turnpike crossing near Nicholasville by a special train on the Cincinnati Southern Railroad, carrying excursionists to New Orleans to witness the Corbett-Sullivan prize fight. Mrs. Farra and one child were badly injured and one child was killed. Mrs. Farra brought three suits against the road—one for herself, one for the child injured and one for the death of her child—claiming damages of about $20,000 in each case. The trial of these cases will prolong the term of the court into next week.

A Third Trial.

The Court of Appeals on Thursday reversed the judgment of the Owen Circuit Court in the case of Dr. J. L. Massie for the killing of Jesse Honaker, and the case now goes back for a third trial—it having been tried twice before and each time Dr. Massie was giving a life sentence in the penitentiary. He has been confined in jail here ever since he was first arrested, except during the time court was in session at Owenton, as it was feared he would be taken from jail by a mob and hung.

Who Will be the Man?

The people seem to be waking up to the importance of selecting a successor to Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, as Representative of the Ashtand District in Congress. Whether Col. Breckinridge shall succeed himself or not, is now the question. There is said to be a widespread desire to see that gentleman from the west end of the District. The kids are now in the saddle and are disposed to have things their own way. They are weary of dancing attendance upon veteran politicians or soldiers. They begin to manifest a desire to select a man more in sympathy with themselves, who will recognize the fact, if chosen, that he will be debtor to the "boys in the trenches," more than to his own superlative powers; who will not neglect the very large class who have lately become voters.

In this connection it may not be amiss to suggest, that among the localities that may be expected to supply material for the contest, Frankfort may be named, and among the number there who might be found serviceable, stands a vigorous lusty fellow who no doubt would feel that a great honor had been conferred upon him, if he were selected as the standard bearer of the Seventh Congressional District. His vigor and comparative youth, together with his raven locks and manly bearing, to say nothing of his intellectual powers, would constitute a rallying point for the young men, who, if reports be true, would soon learn that James Andrew Scott would not be likely to forget or neglect his friends.—Emancipation Constitutionalist, 19-11.

Nervous Prostration.

A large manufacturer, whose affairs were very much embarrassed and who was overworked and broken down with nervous exhaustion, went to a celebrated specialist. He was told that the only thing needed was to be relieved of care and worry, and advised him to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the best remedy for nervous prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, headache, ill effects of spirits, tobacco, coffee, opium, &c. Thousands testify to cures. Books and trial bottles free at J. W. Gayle's.

"How About The Weather."

The Weekly Courier-Journal, published at Louisville, Ky., delights in keeping its subscribers guessing. In addition to being the greatest Democratic newspaper published, it has been a pioneer in enterprises that require thought and figuring on the part of its subscribers. The Weekly's estimating contest on the election in 1892, by which $14,300 in gold coin were distributed among forty-five guessers, is a sample of this. The latest guessing offer of this paper is on the weather—that one subject on which we all consider ourselves prophets. The Weekly Courier-Journal proposes to give $1,000 in cash to its subscribers who can name the coldest day in the month of February, 1894, at Louisville, Ky., and guess closest to the lowest temperature on this day. The contest closes January 31, 1894. Every new subscriber who sends $1 can make one guess; and every old subscriber who renews, sending $1, can guess. Send for a sample copy of the paper for full particulars. Write at once, as the time is short.

ees for the use of district No. 4.

This is a move in the right direction and will be an immediate benefit to teacher and pupil.
Teachers in some parts of our county have had a hard time, similar to a soldier being sent into to fight ignorance with a piece of has returned home.

"Now let there be the merry applicable to the Ridge at this of Chotestville asking for a new

of the measure. The new school-

Those who wonder what the attraction is for ladies in the office of State Librarian should know that it is not the salary, that is too small for that responsible office, but it is the rare literary feast that the State spreads. Volumes so deliciously interesting that it lays the works of Rider Haggard or Jean Libbey in the shade. There will be no lack of lady candidates while the State Library contains such thrilling works as Jay's Political Econ., Journal State, N.
H. Secret Journal Foreign Affairs, 1775., Public Lands, &c.

While in a neighboring city the scribe met an old resident of Frankfort who inquired about nearly everybody in town. After receiving the information required he made a statement which a number of our citizens can substantiate. "You see I had been working along the L. S. R. R., helping to arch the tunnels and for some trifling service I rendered one of the masons he was very friendly with me. Soon after the tunnel was done I got sent up to the pen for four years, and three days after I was sent out with a squad to help the masons on a new house opposite the depot.

One day a new mason came around and got a job and when he came up on the building I saw he was my old C. S. friend. As soon as he saw me he asked the foreman to let me help him, which he did, so I worked all that week handing bricks and keeping his mortar soft. When I told him I was in for four years, he said I ought to be in for ten and was very rough in his manner to me when the guards were close by.
However he gave me writing material, tobacco, molasses and a dozen of other things when he had a chance, for which I was very thankful, for at the time I speak of there were quite a number of better boarding houses in Kentucky than mine, in fact, I was nearly starving to death.
One day after dinner (I mean after reporting at my plate, I got no dinner) my friend dropped his hammer off the second story and sent me down to the cellar to get it. As I went down the ladder he said: "I think it dropped in a barrel, look and see." Well when I got to the cellar I looked in the barrel and there was a complete suit of clothes. I dropped the stripes, got into the clothes, picked up a plank and walked out right past Tom South and two other guards up the hill to the Arsenal where I threw away my plank and found a skiff on the river bank in which I crossed the river and got a ride to Lawrenceburg that evening, and then hoofed it through Harrodsburg to Danville that night, boarded a freight train going to Chattanooga and got there the next morning, met with an old railroad friend who took me to New Orleans that night where I got on a boat going to Galveston."

Quite a number of Frankfort citizens will remember about a convict on the South building being lost in the cellar. He was supposed to have dropped through or fell in an old well. He refused to give the mason's name, but hoped he got his hammer. The Scribe refuses to give the convict's name, but assures him that the mason did get his hammer.

"During the epidemic of la grippe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy took the lead here and was much better liked than other cough medicine."
H. M. Bange, druggist, Chatsworth; Ill. The grip is much the same as a very severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. This remedy is prompt and effectual and will prevent any tendency of the disease toward pneumonia. For sale
